LIFE IN THE PHILIPPINES

INTERESTING LETTER FROM WILLIAM J. BOYCE.

Insurgents. He Says. Keep the American Soldiers on the Move All the Time and Fire on Them from Every Hill—The Story of Phineas Foutz, Who Escaped While Under Death Sentence—Massacre of One of the Ninth Infantry Companies.

The first letter which The Tribune has received in many months from its Philippine correspondent, Corporal William J. Boyce, of Company K, Nineteenth United States Infantry, who is now located at Lobo, Bohol, Philippine Islands, arrived yesterday, and contains many interesting features. He writes as follows:

Lobo, Bohol, P. I., Oct. 25, 1901.—We arrived on the island of Bohol, January 1, 1901, and have been very busy ever since. As this is one of the worst islands of the group, the insurgents keep us on the go, nearly all of the time. They seem to be in their glory here now, and fire at us from every hill. So it keeps us guessing all of the time. The island of Cebu, Samar, and Bohol, have given us more trouble the last six months than all of the islands put together. But Cebu has surrendered. Generals Luna and Morison have come in with their forces, and are now running around Cebu, as though they had always been friends. It is stated that Luna brought in several Americans as prisoners.

Up to the present time we do not know who the Americans are. But it is supposed some of them are men that Captain Smith lost before he was killed. And that they belong to G company of the Nineteenth Infantry.

DOBBS A DESERTER.

Dobbs, the deserter from I company, this morning did not come, but escaped to the island of Negros. He (Dobbs) had been made a colonel in the Philippine army, and knew it would go hard with him if the American forces should get hands on him. He is supposed to have a little money, and has had to contend with, and no punishment would be too severe for him.

You probably have heard of the case of Phineas Foutz, a member of our company. He killed a native girl at Mandana, November 15 last, and was tried for murder at Cebu, convicted and sentenced to be hung. President McKinley approved of the sentence which was the first death sentence that he ever approved of. Foutz was to be hung at Cebu on September 29 last, but on the night of September 19 he escaped from Fort San Pedro and up to the present time has never been heard from.

His friends in K company were all glad to hear of his escape. While we thought he ought to be punished, death seemed a little too severe. I was interested in his case some, on account of his being in the volunteers. He belonged to Company L, Tenth Ohio volunteers, and was near the Thirtieth camp at Camp Meade, Pa., and Camp McKean, Augusta, Ga.

Leutenant W. W. Ficus returned here on August 26 last, after nearly fourteen months in the states. He is now in command of our company. He was on duty some time at West Point, and is one of the ablest officers of the United States army. A pretty for him a bright future.

INSURGENT STRONGHOLD.

The island of Bohol, as I said before, is one of the worst insurgent strongholds of the southern group. On September 4 fifty men of our company, fifty of M company and fifty of L company, Nineteenth Infantry, started on a tour of the island. We were out continually until October 26, and nearly every day had a round with the insurgents.

We visited every town on the island, and where we had positive evidence that they were insurgent towns, we burned them. So up to the present time, the towns of Carmen, Vigan, Deaneau, Valencia, Garcia, Jagna, Drece, and Lobo have gone up in smoke, and many smaller towns have also been burned.

You no doubt have heard of the massacre of the Nineteenth Infantry on the island of Samar. They were supposed to be in a friendly town, and were quartered in a convent near the church. Women of the town carried babies in the church, and then the insurgents barged on them during the night, killing all of the officers and fifty-six men, and capturing nearly all of the rifles, and everything that belonged to the men.

It was a hard blow for the boys to get, but the inhabitants of Samar will say clearly for it. General Hughes is over there now and it is giving the natives a lesson in what real warfare is that they will not soon forget. War is terrible and General Hughes proposes to bring that fact home to the natives who refused to accept our kindnesses that Uncle Sam would shower upon them. When he gets through with that island he is coming over here and will do the same on this island unless the insurgents surrender.

EXPECTING TROUBLE.

Here in Lobo we are daily expecting something of the Samar kind to break out. We are not allowed after 6 p. m., and in the day time are allowed to go only three squares. At night the sentries have the strictest orders to shoot first and halt afterwards in case of anything serious.

The Forty-fourth volunteers used to be over here and it was through them that the insurgents started, as they used to go in towns and rob people of their valuables. One day a small detachment of them was going from Jagna to Ube along the coast road, and the natives ambushed them, killing five of them and wounding eight. Since then the insurgents have been going from bad to worse.

Captain Anderson of the Forty-fourth once took his company back of Jagna, surrounded a town and killed three hundred and eight. That was the worst blow ever given them.

Well, my time is getting short now and I am glad of it. I will be discharged on April 3 next, so when the warm weather comes again I will be in Scranton. I will not be sorry, as soldiering is very hard over here, and a man has to be in the best of shape to stand it. I am in very good health, and have stood the hardships apparently well, but do not care to try it again. We have what is called a local option town. Lieutenant Ficus is a temperance man and does not allow any intoxicating drinks to be sold, either domestic or foreign. It is one of the few towns in the Philippines that does not allow liquor to be sold, and is meeting

A CENTRAL FIRE STATION

DIRECTOR WORMSER WANTS ONE ERECTED.

Will Ask the Recorder to Recommend the Issue of $50,000 Worth of Bonds—He would Erect the Station in the Rear of City Hall and Would Install the Hooks, Crystals, and Police Horses There. Wants Police to Stay in Reserve. A Certain Number of Hours.

Director of Public Safety F. L. Wormser will shortly submit for Recorder Connell's consideration a plan for the erection of a large central fire station in the rear of the municipal building, and of new quarters for No. 1 Chemical company in the central part of the city.

He will ask that the recorder recommend to council the advisability of issuing $50,000 worth of bonds to pay for the construction of these buildings.

The director's idea is to have the central fire station erected on the large plot of land in the rear of the municipal building, which is owned by the city and which is occupied at present by a large, unsightly shed used by the bureau of highways and sewers, and sundry wagons and piles of materials used by the same bureau.

He would erect on this lot a building to cost about $20,000 and sufficiently large to furnish accommodation for the hook and ladder truck, the Crystal steamer and hose wagon, the old Noy steamer, the patrol wagon and the horses used by the mounted officers.

FOR THE RESERVE.

His plan is to have the upper rooms fitted up with sleeping apartments, not only for the large number of firemen who would be required to handle the apparatus mentioned above, but also for a certain number of patrolmen to be kept in reserve.

He points out that there is no city as large as Scranton in the United States in which the members of the police force are not required to spend a certain part of their time in reserve. There is no reason at all, he says, why all the members of the Scranton police force, or at least a certain part of them, should not be asked to spend eight hours in reserve after being eight hours on duty. The eight hours spent in reserve could be devoted to sleep, and the men could have the other eight hours to themselves.

The removal of the hook and ladder company from its present quarters, on West Lackawanna avenue, to the central city is absolutely necessary, the director says, and if it is not moved into a central fire station it will have to be moved some place else.

WHAT CITY PAYS.

The city now pays $840 a year for the rent of the hook and ladder house and $1,200 a year for the rent of the Crystal's quarters. This, coupled with the $500 which is spent annually for the $500 REWARD.

Pursuant to a joint resolution of city councils, a reward of $500 is hereby offered for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons found placing dynamite or other explosives on any street or highway in the city of Scranton.

Latest Date for Sitting December, 21.

It will require an almost superhuman effort and greatly increased staff to accomplish these results, but when public accommodation is the object, no difficulties are too great for achievement.

The rush is on now, it will increase as the week grows older, so don't wait a moment longer than necessary. Remember the date limit, Saturday, December 21.

Lackawanna's New Summer Book.

The Lackawanna railroad is about to issue a Summer Book for the coming season, in which each town along the line will be attractively written up. For the information of those desiring summer homes, it has been decided to admit a limited number of advertisements of hotels and boarding houses, and these advertisements will be placed immediately following the reading matter relative to the town in which they are located.

The demand for such advertisements has been so great that the company has decided to modify the policy established a year ago and permit a brief notice to appear. It is believed the change will be a gratifying one to those who are anxious to secure some of the increasing patronage along the line.

The local ticket agent has been supplied with specimen pages from this book, showing rates for advertising, and other details in connection with it. Copies of these may be obtained upon application. Matter for insertion in the new book must be sent either to the general passenger agent or left with the local ticket agent on or before the first day of February.

The local ticket agent will be glad to answer any inquiries.
